Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Blossoms From a Believer s Garden Frances Ridley Havergal was the youngest daughter of the Rev. William Henry Havergal, of Astley, Worcestershire, England. She was born Dec. 14, 1836. At a very early age she began charitable and missionary labors in Worcester, to which city her father moved in 1845. She taught a Sunday-school class of very young children, and the story of this period is pleasantly told in one of her books for children. She was a diligent student and mastered five or six languages, including Greek and Hebrew, while she was equally skilled in musical composition and in needle-work. As a solo-singer, her voice possessed a sweet and sympathetic quality. She could render on the piano or the organ, with great ease and expression, the most difficult of Handel s, Mendelsohn s and Beethoven s compositions. Her voice, like her pen, was fully consecrated and kept for the Master s use. Her health was frail, and her hymns and poems were written out of the depth of her experience, and often of suffering. Miss Havergal died in Swansea, Wales, June 3, 1879. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
