

Trees: An Illustrated Identifier and Encyclopedia (Hardback)

By Tony Russell, Catherine Cutler

Hermes House, United Kingdom, 2016. Hardback. Book Condition: New. 224 x 170 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. This wonderful encyclopedia explains what a tree is, how it lives, grows and dies, and how its constituent parts - the buds, branches, flowers, leaves, roots, cones, fruit and bark - all play their role in its life-cycle. An identifier section covers trees of the tropics and trees of the temperate world, and includes over 600 examples, from lofty conifers and stately deciduous broadleaf trees to elegant palms and exotic flowering trees. Detailed descriptions are accompanied by artworks of the whole tree profile in winter and summer, along with images of their defining characteristics. The book is an authoritative visual aid for identifying the tree species of the world.
