Not illustrated. 1893 Excerpt: . and copyist examinations, heretofore separate, have been combined into one, which will hereafter be known as the clerk-copyist examination. The subjects of this combined examination will be substantially the same as those of the former clerk examination, the test on the construction of sentences, however, being omitted; they will be: orthography, penmanship, copying, letter-writing and arithmetic. No application for the clerk-copyist examination will be received from persons whose legal residence is in any of the following named States or Territories: Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Idaho, Maryland, Massachusetts, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, or Wyoming. These have already received an excess of appointments, and also have a large number of eligibles on the registers of the Commission; applications will, however, be received from their residents for any other than the clerk-copyist examination. No examinations at all are...
